Intervention study

April – June 2025

In the summer semester of 2025, the me_HeLi-D program was implemented in a rigorous cluster randomized controlled trial (cRCT) across schools in Austria, Poland, and Slovenia. Time and scheduling constraints posed challenges in recruiting schools; however, Slovenian schools in particular demonstrated strong interest in participating in the program evaluation. In total, 797 students aged 11 to 16 years ($M = 13$) took part, of whom 444 were assigned to the intervention group and tested the program. Data analyses are still underway, but promising and important findings are already beginning to emerge.

A heartfelt THANK YOU to all the committed teachers and students for their invaluable participation in our study!

4th Partner Meeting

August 27, 2025 | Graz, Austria

The fourth and final on-site partner meeting took place in Graz and was an important opportunity to look back on the accomplishments of the past three years. Together, we reflected on the iterative, participatory process of program development and shared our personal highlights and challenges. Most importantly, we also took time to plan the next steps ahead — including the open-access launch of the program, upcoming publication activities, and possibilities for future collaboration.

Open-Access Launch

CC BY-NC-SA | Monika Klobčar

We are excited to announce that the open-access version of our digital program will be launched shortly.

The program is designed to support children and young people in strengthening their mental health and improving their mental health literacy. It does so in a playful and interactive way that can be easily integrated into everyday school life. Across five relevant topic areas, students explore practical tools for building inner strength. A motivating storyline encourages participation and helps transfer new skills into daily routines. Through varied multimedia exercises and quizzes, students learn strategies to cope with challenges, seek help when needed, and develop mental resilience.

The program will be freely available to all schools, making evidence-based mental health promotion accessible to a broad range of students.

- Stay tuned for updates on our website: project.meheli-d.uni-graz.at
- The program itself will soon be available at: meheli-d.uni-graz.at
